THERE were 217 coronavirus cases per 100,000 in West Lancashire, which compares to the average area in England of 52 for the period September 26 to October 2. There were 248 cases in West Lancashire in that period, which was up 117 on the previous week and the total cases in the borough up to October 5 is 1,360. There have been 118 coronavirus-related deaths registered in West Lancashire up to September 25. The pandemic has affected schools in the borough with staff and pupils at three classes at Pontville School in Ormskirk sent home to self-isolate after two members of staff tested positive for coronavirus. Pubs and bars have also been affected with the Legh Arms in Mere Brow closed until Thursday, October 15 after a staff member tested positive for coronavirus. A post on their social media page said: "A member of our team has tested positive to coronavirus to whom we have provided our full support. "We decided that temporary closure was our only option. "We are working tirelessly to contact all relevant customers who have visited us and are following official Government track and trace advice and guidance." It added that a thorough deep clean of the premises will be carried out. Burscough restaurant Eden is also now closed until Wednesday, October 14 after a member of staff tested positive for Covid. The Ship pub at Lathom has also closed for a period after a staff member tested positive.

FIRE CREWS AT PUB BLAZE HAMPERED BY
'ROGUE PRIVATE DRONE'

Device being flown over site during major incident
'delayed firefighting efforts'

Report by Henry James

FIRE crews who tackled a major blaze at a former historic pub in Westhead were hampered in their efforts by a 'rogue private drone' which was being flown overhead by a resident. A major blaze broke out at the site of what used to be the Halton Castle pub shortly after 11pm on Friday, October 2, with fire crews from Skelmersdale, Ormskirk and Greater Manchester attending the incident. However, firefighters were unable to deploy their own drone for half an hour because of a private drone which was being flown over the building. Flames and thick black smoke came out of the roof of the building on Castle Lane. The former pub has been empty since 2016, and permission was given for it to be demolished last year. Lancashire Fire Service protection service delivery manager Ian Armistead criticised the person who flew a "private rogue drone" over the site at the time they were fighting the fire.

He tweeted: "The drone hampered firefighting tactics and delayed the deployment of the Lancashire Fire Service drone. Please don't do it. "The rogue drone prevented us from flying our drone for at least 30 minutes. "It seems like the message isn't getting through.

Keep away from emergency service incidents." Police and the fire service have launched an investigation following the fire. A Lancashire Fire spokesman said: "Firefighters from Skelmersdale, Ormskirk and a crew from

Borough's £1m lottery winner comes forward

Report by Henry James

A MYSTERY £1m lottery winner from West Lancashire has come forward to claim their jackpot weeks after the draw.

The winning Lotto ticket was bought somewhere in the borough.

Camelot UK Lotteries Limited, operator of The National Lottery, has confirmed that it has received a claim for the Lotto prize from the draw on August 1.

The lucky ticket-holder matched five main numbers and the bonus ball in the draw.

As with all major prizes, the claim will now go through the process of validation, which includes checks to ensure the Games Rules Terms and Conditions are adhered to and the integrity of The National Lottery is protected.

Subject to validation the prize will then be paid at an appointment with one of Camelot's Winners' advisers.

Once the ticket has been validated and paid, the ticket-holder will then decide whether or not to go public and share their news.

There will be no information on whether it is an individual or syndicate winner, or where the ticket was purchased, unless the ticket-holder decides to go public. Camelot's Andy Carter, senior winners' advisor at The National Lottery, said, "It's fantastic news that the lucky ticket-holder has now claimed their prize."

"We will now focus on supporting the ticket-holder through the process."

"We're encouraging all National Lottery players to check their tickets, either online via the National Lottery website or, as the current situation allows, in their local store."

Thanks to National Lottery players, up to £600m is being used by charities and organisations affected by the impact of the coronavirus outbreak across the arts, community and charity, heritage, education, environment and sport sectors.

With all National Lottery draws, players have 180 days from the day of the draw to claim their prize if they have the winning ticket.

Anyone who has any queries or who believes they have the winning ticket for any of the National Lottery draws within the 180-day deadline should call the National Lottery Line on 0333 234 5050 or email help@national-lottery.co.uk

Blue plaques to war hero and suffragette unveiled at Wharf

Report by Henry James

A WAR hero and a suffragette campaigner have been recognised with two Blue Plaques at Burscough Wharf.

The lives of Edward Bridge and Harriett Mahood were due to be honoured in April, but this was delayed because of the pandemic.

The Blue Plaques were finally installed on Wednesday, September 23.

Due to present Covid restrictions organisers were unable to hold a ceremony and hopefully this will be done at some stage next year.

Edward Bridge was born in September 1893. He was awarded the Military Medal (MM) during the First World War for wiping out a German machine gun post.

During the Second World War, he was given the British Empire Medal and was sent a personally signed letter from Prime Minister Winston Churchill saying he had been "stirred" to hear of Edward's war work despite his injuries.

Edward had become bed-ridden between the wars due to severe injuries, which his family believe were due to fighting in World War One.

While convalescing, Edward began to take up an interest in radios and learnt Morse Code and obtained a licence from the government. He was recruited by the Radio Security Service (RSS) as a Voluntary Interceptor.

He intercepted a message in July 1940 that led to his British Empire Medal, and was "extremely valuable" to the war effort.

Harriett Mahood was born in November 1860 in Liverpool. She originally ran a floristry business in Edward Bridge.

Harriett Mahood.

Wallasey and founded Mahood's Nursery on Red Cat Lane after moving to Burscough.

She was a women's rights campaigner and suffragette and was the first female deacon in the Baptist Church in England.

Michael Dawson, who is one of the people behind the project to get the Blue Plaques installed, said it had been "a great team effort."

A local drama group based at the Wharf are hopefully going to perform, at some point, a short play about Harriett and Edward while special booklets, designed by Trevor Bridge, have been published, and are being delivered to local schools and care homes.

Mr Dawson added: "We would like to thank the National Lottery Heritage Fund who have generously supported and funded this project."

"The funding as applied for successfully through my Images of Burscough Voluntary Community Group."

alight. Crews used a stinger and three hose reels to bring the fire under control."

The A577 Wigan Road was closed for a time due to concerns about the safety of the structure.

The former Halton Castle pub is not listed as site of historical significance, although it has a history going back to 1840.

Developers want to build homes on the site and in 2019 West Lancashire Borough Council approved plans, which were submitted by GM 2 Ltd in 2018, to demolish the pub and build six semi-detached homes and four apartments.

Football club call for 'level playing field' after playing match behind closed doors

Council told United to play FA cup tie without supporters but then allowed hundreds of spectators to watch junior competition at same venue

Report by Henry James

SKELMERSDALE United Football Club are calling for a "level playing field" after they were made to play their match behind closed doors on Saturday, yet hundreds of people were allowed to watch a junior league competition at the same the venue the following day.

United's home FA Cup tie against Lancaster City at the JMO Sports Park on Saturday was played with no supporters present on the orders of West Lancashire Council due to the rise in Covid-19 cases in the region.

The club accepted the decision and withdrew the 150 match tickets they had already sold, refunding supporters at a cost of £1,400.

The next day, however, the sports complex hosted a junior league competition with hundreds of spectators attending.

The club is now calling for the council to be consistent in its rules for holding sports events.

The club had originally begun selling tickets in line with FA and Government guidelines, and had worked to a capacity of 250 which was then reduced to 150, before the council told them not to allow any spectators in at all.

Skelmersdale United chairman Paul Griffiths said: "The council told us they had made the decision about our matches because of a rise of Covid-19 cases in the borough and I have no argument with that."

"However, I drove past Blaguegate on Sunday, and there must have been more than 300 young people and adults taking part and watching the Skelmersdale Junior League."

"Why can this happen, while we have to play behind closed doors? There needs to be a level playing field here."

"We have followed all the guidelines and are stewarded properly."

When contacted by the Champion, a council spokesperson referred to the advice given for attendance of spectators at sporting events on its website.

It states: "As we are seeing an increase in the number of positive cases in West Lancashire we cannot support any public gathering which includes spectators to attend adult sporting events at any level.

"One parent or guardian per child may attend a child's sporting events for safeguarding reasons but must keep a safe distance apart from other parents."

● Burscough's scheduled league match at Bootle on Saturday was postponed as the home club have voluntarily ceased all activities for two weeks due to the rise in Covid-19 cases in the Liverpool area.

Both Burscough and Skelmersdale's scheduled home fixtures for yesterday (Tuesday) were postponed due to Covid-19 restrictions.

Police visit Asda store on reports of shoppers not wearing masks

Report by Henry James

POLICE have visited the Asda store in Skelmersdale after residents complained that some shoppers were not wearing face masks in the shop.

The visit took place after MP Rosie Cooper MP was contacted by constituents about 'lax implementation' of the Covid-19 regulations which have made wearing masks in shops necessary.

M Cooper said: "It concerns me when residents are reporting that retailers may not be actively encouraging their customers to wear face masks to help reduce the spread of Covid-19."

"I raised these concerns with Lancashire Constabulary and Asda Skelmersdale asking what measures are in place to ensure customers are wearing masks."

"I am pleased to report that the police are actively working with the store and have been to visit, speaking with shoppers and advising them that not wearing masks could lead to fines.

"Following the previous easing of restrictions the rate of the virus is growing and it is vital that health and safety measures in place not only for the public but for staff members."

An Asda spokesperson said: "Government guidance states that retailers should take reasonable steps to promote compliance with the law and in all Asda stores we strongly encourage customers to wear a face covering."

"This is done through signage and point of sale displays, broadcasts on our in-store radio station Asda FM and by offering packs of disposable masks for sale at the front of every store."

"On the back of the letter from Rosie Cooper MP, the police visited the store and had no concerns with the preventative measures we have in place in our Skelmersdale store."

"We have responded directly to the letter to outline all of the steps we've taken in ensuring we are keeping our customers and colleagues safe."

Life jail term for man who murdered his friend

Report by Henry James

A MAN has been jailed for life for the murder of his friend.

Janis Mikitovs was celebrating his 36th birthday on March 28 and had invited his friend Kristaps Muzikants to come to his house in Skelmersdale the evening before to celebrate with him.

But the celebrations turned to tragedy after Mikitovs stabbed his friend following a night of drinking. Mr Muzikants, 30, died in the early hours of March 28 as a result of a stab wound to the abdomen.

A post-mortem examination showed he had suffered a single 23-centimetre knife wound which penetrated his liver and sliced through a major vein, causing catastrophic internal bleeding.

Mikitovs initially claimed to police called to the scene that his friend had gone outside and he had found him injured in the street. He later changed his story but claimed he had no knowledge of how Mr Muzikants got his injury.

Mikitovs, 36, of Acregate, Skelmersdale, had denied murder but was convicted last month following a trial at Preston Crown Court.

He was jailed for life and will serve a minimum term of sixteen and a half years before he is eligible to apply for parole.

Detective Chief Inspector Gareth Willis said: "Janis Mikitovs has shown no remorse and told lies to try and cover up what he did."

"He has offered no explanation for his actions and I know Kristaps' family have found that especially hard to come to terms with."

"While no jail term can ever truly compensate for the loss of a loved one, I hope this sentence offers them some small comfort and that they are now able to start to try and move on with their lives."

"This case sadly once again shows all too clearly the devastating consequences that can result from violence involving the use of a knife."

In a tribute, Mr Muzikants' family said: "Kristaps was a really nice person, he was always happy."

"Our family is longing to see his face, his smile and hear his voice. We all miss him so much."

TSB branch closures are slammed by MP

Report by Henry James

TSB branches in Ormskirk and Skelmersdale are to close as part of the bank's nationwide closure programme.

TSB has said that the move has been "driven by a significant shift in customer behaviour", including a reduction in the number of customers using branches and a significant acceleration in digital adoption.

Their Ormskirk TSB branch in Derby Street is currently closed "due to coronavirus" and won't reopen.

The Skelmersdale branch at The Concourse will close in May next year.

MP Rosie Cooper said: "The closure of yet another high street bank is very, very disappointing for its customers in West Lancashire where TSB now have no branches and customers would need to travel to Wigan, Maghull, Formby or Southport to visit a branch."

"TSB try to justify this decision by saying that their customer numbers at the Skelmersdale branch are down to just 48 per week."

"The closure will not take place until May next year and in the interim, TSB staff will be working with customers to support them moving to telephone and internet banking and advising them of options to visit an alternative branch which if you don't have your own transport is going to be very difficult."

"TSB advise that customers will also be able to continue everyday banking activities such as cash and cheque lodgement and withdrawals at the Post Office. I have written to the Business Secretary to raise my concerns that banking choice and availability is being eroded by continued branch closures across many of the major banks."

The closed TSB branch in Ormskirk

"These banks were happy to take taxpayers' money and be propped up by the taxpayer when they were facing bankruptcy but now the banking community appears happy to neglect those very same taxpayers and shut up shop leaving disadvantaged areas like Skelmersdale at further disadvantage."

"When NatWest closed they sent their customers to the Post Office, now TSB are doing the same – so what guarantees can the Government give that the Post Office will always remain open in local towns such as Skelmersdale."

"Ministers and the banks need to get a grip of this situation and plan what the future will look like for banking services and ensure they are providing access for ALL customers."

Debbie Crosbie, chief executive of TSB, commented: "Closing any of our branches is never an easy decision, but our customers are banking differently – with a marked shift to digital banking."

The Tap Room

Tap Room voted pub of year by CAMRA members

MEMBERS of the Southport and West Lanes branch of the Campaign for Real Ale group (CAMRA) have given awards to two bars in Ormskirk.

The awards are nominated and voted on by CAMRA members who have visited all nominated establishments.

The Pub of the Year award for West Lancashire went to the Tap Room No 12 (formerly the Hop Inn Bier Shoppe) on Burscough Street, Ormskirk.

Formerly a shop, it was converted into a single-room bar, and the wooden panels and genuine pub furniture successfully recreate the atmosphere of a traditional pub room.

As well as real ale, they also sell more than 20 gins as well as craft and continental beers.

The Cider Pub of the Year is the Court Leet on Wheatsheaf Walk, just off Burscough Street.

This JD Wetherspoons pub is on two levels with an open air balcony on the first floor overlooking the Ormskirk skyline.

New head for school

ANN Naylor has been appointed the new headteacher of St Francis of Assisi Primary School having taught in Skelmersdale for the past 27 years.

Ann said: "I am absolutely delighted to have been appointed having carried out the role in an acting capacity since March."

"St Francis of Assisi is a wonderful school with the most amazing children, fantastic staff and supportive parents and governors."

"It's a challenging time to take on a headship, but I feel privileged to have been given this opportunity. I will continue to focus on fulfilling the potential of all and taking the school from strength to strength."

Tenants with money problems are urged to contact council

Report by Henry James

TENANTS who are having money problems are being urged to contact the West Lancashire Borough Council for help and make arrangements to avoid getting behind or further behind with their rent.

For council tenants they offer support and agree payment plans, if they are having difficulties or have started falling behind with their payments.

The council's specialist team will help, and tenants have been told it is important to get in touch and make arrangements to get payments back on track and prevent legal proceedings starting.

A council spokesperson said: "We appreciate that this is a very difficult time and the government has made financial support available for tenants, depending on their individual circumstances, so that they can continue to pay their rent as normal."

"The money we receive from rental payments is used to provide the essential services tenants need including repairs and improvements to their homes."

Councillor Jenny Wilkie, cabinet member for housing and landlord services, added: "We want to help our tenants but we have had to start legal proceedings again for some tenants in rent arrears as they have not contacted us to make arrangements to deal with this."

"We are urging tenants who may be struggling to pay their rent to contact us and see what support we can offer so they can avoid getting behind or further behind with their rent and possible legal proceedings."

"The council has worked closely with tenants and residents throughout the ongoing pandemic and continue to offer support to ensure they are getting all the income and benefits they are entitled to reduce financial hardship.

"Of the tenants that faced legal action before the lockdown, the vast majority have worked closely with the council and are now on payment plans so they have avoided having to go to court."

People who want advice and should contact the Income and Financial Inclusion team on 01695 585252 or email incometeam@westlancs.gov.uk.

A still of the Headsup animation

Company gets animated to provide emotional wellbeing for children

Report by Henry James

A COMPANY in Skelmersdale, run by a team of teachers and other educators, is providing a free fun, short set of emotional wellbeing animations for two to 11 year olds.

Headsup CIC, based at Beacon House, are providing the animations after being given funds by The National Lottery Covid-19 Support Fund.

The animations are in the form of emotions, which are characters who come alive on screen and are accessed remotely via a free link, which can be shared by parents.

The programme is a short training animation about primary and secondary emotions, which will be delivered via a four minute song and dance animation plus six 90 second animated short stories.

Headsup helps children to understand, identify and communicate their emotions on a daily basis and take personal ownership of their emotions.

The educators are Edge Hill educated and have taught locally.

Jane Booth from Headsup CIC, said: "We are delighted with the characters and animations as the children are easily relating to them and we are extremely proud to have been awarded this funding so we can share the Headsup emotional wellbeing message.

"The animations are currently running in local nurseries, schools and family centres but we want more people to know about them so many more can benefit.

"These animations explain how children and their parents can understand, navigate and communicate their emotions very easily.

"We really want to do this in advance of any further lockdown or extended half term and in advance of mental health day on October 10 because we feel that further restrictions could trigger the need for further support for families and children."

For more information call Jane on 07568 577 902, or visit www.headsup.co.uk, jane@headsup.co.uk

The company also has adult provision through an online course.

They have recently been awarded funding via Clive Grunshaw, the Lancashire Police Crime Commissioner, to help to reduce reoffending.

Jane added: "The course aims to give those who have lost direction, some hope and support to help them focus on new directions."

Council chief asks PM for more support for local businesses

AS West Lancashire could see further local measures to protect residents against Covid-19, borough council leader Councillor Ian Moran has written to the Prime Minister to request more support for local businesses.

Councillor Moran said: "If restrictions are to be tightened in West Lancashire and the county as a whole to protect our communities it is vital that the government provide support for our local economy.

"People are really worried about their businesses and

West Lancashire Borough Council Leader Ian Moran there is a danger that if emergency funding packages don't arrive from government the whole local economy could collapse which would cost many people their jobs."

Councillor Moran added: "What is really needed is an effective test and trace system to help us to tackle the virus and protect the health and wellbeing of the people of West Lancashire.

"I would also urge everyone to play their part by keeping to the new rules and follow the government advice about washing hands regularly, keeping your distance from others you don't live with and wearing a face covering where appropriate."

71 knives recovered from 'surrender bins' around Skelmersdale

Report by Henry James

POLICE in Skelmersdale have released pictures of the 71 knives which have been left in the designated knife bins within the town.

A spokesman for Skelmersdale Police shared an image (shown, right) on the force's social media page and said: "This is a collection of knives which have been recovered from the designated knife bins within Skelmersdale."

"The bins have been strategically placed by Lancashire Police violence reduction network in South division to allow the community to do the right thing in order to take knives and edged weapons off the streets of Lancashire and assist in the prevention of crime."

"The bins have been emptied today and there was a total of 71 knives which have been taken off the streets of Skelmersdale, most of which are extremely menacing and could cause some serious injuries if not worse."

"We would like to thank the people who have surrendered these knives and by doing so they have potentially prevented a horrendous crime."

Earlier this year the knife bins were installed across the county to give people a safe place to dispose of unwanted knives and sharp items.

A total of 16 new safe and secure containers were located in busy, well-lit areas across Lancashire that are aimed to be easy to get to as part of the police's work to keep knives off the streets.

They aim to "provide people with a legal and safe way to surrender knives and bladed items."

It is hoped that the bins - which were recently emptied - will help keep unwanted bladed weapons out of circulation. The knives are being disposed of by the police unless there is an obvious sign one has been used in a crime.

YOUR WILL.
 YOUR LIFESAVING LEGACY.

This October, we're making it easy for you to write or update your Will – for free. So in a world that seems full of worries, you don't need to worry about this.

Once you've ensured your loved ones are looked after, you might consider leaving a gift to the RNLI in your Will, although there is no obligation to do so. Six out of 10 lifeboat launches are only possible thanks to gifts left to the RNLI in supporters' Wills.

If you or your partner are 55 or over, you can write or update your simple Will for free* in a covid-safe way. Simply contact one of these solicitors and quote 'RNLI Free Wills Month'.

*Terms apply. Please see RNLI.org/FWMTerms for details.

The RNLI is the charity that saves lives at sea

Smokers urged to kick cigarettes into touch in Stoptober

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE'S stop-smoking service, Quit Squad, is encouraging smokers across the county to ditch cigarettes this Stoptober and embark on the journey towards breaking the habit for good.

Setting a date to quit smoking is one of the best things you can do for both your physical and mental health and with the risks of respiratory infections posed by Covid-19, it has never been more important than now.

People who quit smoking for 28 days are five more times likely to quit for good.

Across the UK, the proportion of people who have successfully quit smoking this year is the highest it's been for more than a decade and the Quit Squad are offering their support during Stoptober to help this upward trend continue.

Between January and March this year, the service supported 809 smokers to successfully quit, improving their health and wealth.

Tracey Sutton, the Quit Squad manager said: "Quit Squad wants to help as many people as possible to stop smoking for good. The service offers specialist support to stop smoking and advice on medication, which is available free to those on benefits or is the cost of a prescription.

"There is also additional 24/7 online support for people in Lancashire from the My Quit Route app which is free to download on IOS and android."

Quit Squad offers free advice and support to help people start their journey to quitting for good and is available to anyone across the Lancashire region, over the age of 12.

The Stoptober campaign aims to encourage smokers to quit for October and beyond.

This year the campaign has partnered with the NHS Better Health campaign, which offers support to quit smoking, get active, and lose weight.

Quit Squad now offers a self-referral option through their website for those wanting to access the service.

To contact the team call 0800 328 6297 or visit www.quit-squad.nhs.uk/

Speed cameras needed as drivers ignore 20mph limit

Re: Previous comments on 20mph speed limits.
One third of the residential part of Long Lane has a 20mph limit.

As most motorists abhor this they tend to travel at nearer 30mph, but the parked cars inhibit their process!

So that helps restrict speed.

The remaining residential section of Long Lane has two speed cameras in situ and whilst not causing prosecutions, they generally have an effect on motorists who restrict their speed.

Parked vehicles, particularly at the cottages, cause drivers to reduce speed too.

Of course, there is always the odd idiot - but no amount of speed restrictions stop them, particularly the farm tractors, often with a trailer attached, who scare the wits out of me as they seem to be immune to any limits.

What is needed - and urgently - are cameras at the traffic lights.

The number of motorists going through on red is significant - as are the prolific number of accidents caused by them.

MP,
Aughton

Waste of money to create cycle lane on St Helens Road

In the leading letter in the Champion, September 23 edition your correspondent makes various points about the poor provision for local cyclists and walkers.

Most of these are probably valid but I cannot agree with the comments about the ill-conceived cycle lane created on St Helens Road.

The letter states that the St Helens Road/Moor Street junction is an Air Quality Management Area and, therefore, it surely makes no sense to have created a situation whereby the volume of standing traffic is increased leading to higher air pollution.

He also states that the scheme was funded by the Government and not the local authority.

I thought that this was the case and I also suspected that the local authority felt compelled to draw down the money because it was available even though they did not have a practicable project to spend it on.

I consider that it was irresponsible to take and spend this money so ineffectively when there are so many demands on government funds at this difficult time.

Keir Maggs,
Ormskirk

Former railway line should be converted for use by walkers, cyclists and horse riders

West Lancashire Borough Council is missing out on a fantastic resource.

The old railway line connecting Skelmersdale and Ormskirk could and should be made usable for walkers, cyclists and horses.

Other regions elsewhere have opened up similar sites to great effect.

There are areas where buildings and suchlike cause obstructions but problems like these can be overcome. Such a project can be so beneficial to the health and well being of people, now and for generations to come.

D Hill,
Skelmersdale

Brilliant service from library staff

Burscough Library is open again after six months and I would like send a big 'thank you' to the Lancashire Library Service for responding so well to the Covid-19 crisis.

I recently used the Six of the Best service at Ormskirk library.

This meant sending a short email with my requirements - actually Large Print books for my elderly mum - and then collecting the books, which were ready the same morning!

The books were at the door on arrival with my name on - I didn't even have to go in.

A brilliant service, so helpful!

Many thanks to the staff involved.

Kath Coyle,
By email

Plenty police and pastors

Perhaps if there had been as many police and street pastors, or whatever they are, on the streets of Ormskirk when the bloke robbed the jewellery shop in Moorgate as there was last Saturday night at 9.45pm to ensure bars and restaurants closed on time, there might have been a chance of him getting caught!

Ron Cowell,
Ormskirk

Dogs left to bark can cause a great deal of mental distress

In response to letter in The Champion 23rd September 'Barking dogs so annoying':

I would like to add to this that the noise of dogs barking excessively can also cause a great deal of distress.

We know this first hand as we live near people who regularly leave their dogs outside while they go to work or for other long periods.

The dogs will bark repeatedly at the slightest noise, for instance, if we try to do any jobs in the garden.

It has been necessary to close windows on the hottest of days on numerous occasions due to the repeated barking. Several of us have tried to discuss the matter diplomatically but the owners become defensive and refuse to engage in meaningful conversation.

The response has been "Well that's what dogs do".

This has led to many of us who are putting up with the noise feel overwhelmed and at times quite depressed. It has certainly affected my own mental health adversely.

People are nervous of involving the Council due to the potential for repercussions or animosity. It really can be an impossible situation.

West Lancs Ark is given £25,000 grant by PCC's Community Action Fund

Report by Henry James

WEST LANCS ARK CIC is one of 10 local groups and organisations to be awarded more than £25,000 through Lancashire Police and Crime Commissioner Clive Grunshaw's Community Action Fund.

West Lancs Ark CIC is based in the Ecumenical Centre, Skelmersdale and offer a free service to members of the community who maybe homeless, unemployed, ex-offenders or substance misusers.

CAF funding has been distributed to projects across Lancashire, helping groups tackle local concerns and deliver the Commissioner's key priorities.

The latest round has seen £25,039 allocated to various projects across Lancashire which will be delivered in ways which meet the guidelines in place to tackle Covid-19.

By helping groups tackle local concerns and deliver the Commissioner's key priorities in his Police and Crime Plan, the fund delivers an effective way of engaging people within their communities, through diversionary activity and targeted support among others.

The Commissioner said: "Since launching CAF in 2013, grants that have been awarded have helped local groups make a real difference in communities across the county."

Police Commissioner Clive Grunshaw

"Helping residents and volunteers deliver projects that keep their area safe and reduce crime is what CAF is all about, helping me to achieve my key priorities in my police and crime plan."

"Local people across Lancashire have great ideas that can help in their areas, and I'm looking forward to continuing to support projects through the action fund that make a positive impact in our communities."

For more details about the Community Action Fund, including funding criteria and how to apply, call 01772 412796.

Jobs Support Scheme to replace furlough

WORKERS in West Lancashire who have not been able to return to the workplace full time due to the coronavirus will continue to have their wages 'topped up' after furlough ends. It was confirmed on September 24 that a new 'Jobs Support Scheme' will replace the furlough payments when it ends in October. The new scheme will be in place from November 1.

To be eligible, employees must work for at least one-third of their normal hours and for the hours not worked, the government and employer will each pay one-third of the remaining wages. This means the employee would get at least 77% of their pay.

Consultation launched to end the scourge of 'pavement parking'

Report by Tom Martin

SEFTON residents can have a say on whether pavement parking should be banned across England after the government launched a public consultation.

It is currently illegal to park on the pavement in London and the government is looking to implement this across the country.

Three options in the consultation, which is active until November 22, include: a London-style nationwide ban on pavement parking; improving the traffic regulation order process to make it easier for councils to prohibit pavement parking in their areas; and giving councils powers to fine drivers who park on pavements.

Living Streets, the UK charity for everyday walking has been campaigning for an end to pavement parking.

The charity believes all options in the consultation are steps in the right direction but that a nationwide default ban, with the ability to allow pavement parking in certain circumstances, would be much simpler to enact and easier for everyone to understand.

Stephen Edwards, Director of Pavement parking can cause problems for pedestrians

Policy and Communications, Living Streets said: "Pavement parking forces people with wheelchairs, buggies and those living with sight loss into the road and into oncoming traffic."

"We're regularly contacted at Living Streets by disabled and older people who feel trapped in their homes because there isn't enough room on the pavement for wheelchairs or mobility scooters. This has impacted more people during the pandemic with blocked pavements affecting everyone's ability to physically distance."

"A green and sustainable recovery from Covid-19 relies on our streets being clear and safe."

Transport Secretary Grant Shapps said: "Parking on pavements means wheelchair users, visually impaired people and parents with pushchairs can be forced into the road, which is not only dangerous but discourages people from making journeys."

"A key part of our green, post-Covid recovery will be encouraging more people to choose active travel, such as walking, so it is vital that we make the nation's pavements accessible for everyone."

Touchdown

MARTIN Mere is expecting 40,000 pink footed geese to touch down at the WWT site this autumn – a spectacle they say does not happen anywhere else in the world.

A total of 20,000 geese are already at the Burscough site with numbers rising daily.

Pink-footed geese spend the breeding season in Iceland and then migrate to the UK for the winter, stopping off in the North West to re-fuel before continuing with the migration.

Nick Brooks from WWT said: "Our WWT wetland centre is an ideal places to immerse yourself in nature and there is no better time to see what the wetlands in your area have to offer than autumn."

"Seeing thousands of thousands of geese flying overhead and whiffling down to the mere is one of nature's greatest spectacles – but they are only here for a short time!"

"At the moment they are really active during the day and are constantly flying in and out of the site so you are guaranteed great views." Autumn is considered the best time of year to explore wetlands whatever the weather. A spokesperson for Martin Mere said: "They provide an abundance of space and fresh air for nature lovers to enjoy endless skies and epic sunsets. Comfortable hides, situated throughout all our reserves, ensure visitors can protect themselves from the elements without missing out on amazing seasonal scenes."

WWT Martin Mere Wetland Centre has the 'We're Good to Go' stamp of approval - meaning the centre operates within the relevant government and public health guidance for managing coronavirus risk. These measures include managing numbers on site, ensuring social distancing and thorough cleaning regimes.

Barry scoops win on first Queenscourt ticket-less raffle event

QUEENSCOURT has announced a winner for their first ever ticket-less Summer Raffle.

The team at the Kew hospice, had to re-think how they were going to run their popular raffle safely during the pandemic.

Instead of the traditional ticket stubs, supporters simply returned a reply slip or paid online for 20 numbers to raise £20 each, which helps to fund one nurse for an hour.

The winner was Southport great-grandfather and pensioner Barry Higginbottom – who has made a generous donation from his £2,000 winnings back to Queenscourt as a contribution towards the hospice's next raffle, as well as putting some towards a new car.

Mr Higginbottom first began supporting Queenscourt upon his return to Southport in 1995. He signed up to Queenscourt's weekly Lottery in 1995 and has also taken part in every raffle since then, but never expected to win!

Mr Higginbottom, who underwent heart surgery a few months ago, said: "It is amazing - I never win anything so thank you so, so much."

Plastic straws banned in bid to tackle single use pollution of oceans

Report by Henry James

LANCASHIRE Trading Standards is reminding retailers that the sale of straws, drinks stirrers and cotton buds made from plastic is now banned in an effort to tackle single-use pollution.

The ban is just one step towards trying to tackle the problem of plastic pollution, which has seen over 150 million tonnes of plastic flooding into the world's oceans and creating huge floating garbage patches.

A 2018 report estimated that plastic was due to treble in the world's oceans by 2025 - marine plastic already kills many millions of seabirds and mammals every year, and the problem is getting worse daily.

The government estimates that around 4.7 billion plastic straws, 1.8 billion plastic-stemmed cotton buds and 316 million plastic stirrers are used in England each year.

Although these single use items are now largely banned, there is an exemption for stock already in store before October 1, which can be sold through for the next six months, however no new stock can be purchased.

The ban applies to single use items made wholly or partly from plastic, and sold to a consumer. Reusable alternatives or straws, stirrers and buds made from other materials are widely available and are allowed.

There are also exemptions for straws on drinks cartons, those used in care homes, prisons, schools or nurseries, and to assist anyone with disabilities or medical needs.

Lancashire Trading Standards Service will be enforcing the ban in Lancashire, and have the power to inspect, test purchase, request records and take samples.

Plastic straws have been banned in a bid to tackle single-use pollution

Breaches can be a criminal offence, although a civil fine or a stop notice can also be imposed.

County Councillor Albert Atkinson, cabinet member with responsibility for Trading Standards, said: "Straws may seem unimportant at first glance, but the government estimates that the UK uses 4.7 billion of them a year, amounting to 3,500 tonnes of plastic waste.

"The average person uses 130 of these items, which is a much higher usage per head than any other European country.

"They are rarely recycled and take 200 years to decompose, becoming microplastics in our oceans, and adding to the roadside litter which costs local authorities a fortune to clear up."

Liverpool Dental Spa can offer nervous patients pain free dentistry no matter how big or small using sedation this will allow the most nervous patients to go through any dental procedure calmly and successfully.

Wouldn't it be fantastic to never have to worry about a denture moving or slipping ever again?

To have the confidence to choose anything off the menu and be able to laugh, sing and speak in public without that subconscious fear that your denture will let you down at the worst possible moment?

Dr Marius McGovern, clinical director at Liverpool Implant and Aesthetic

Dental Spa, is passionate about ending denture suffering by using implants to provide same-day teeth.

He said: "Having missing teeth can have a social and functional impact, but here at Liverpool Implant and Aesthetic Dental Spa we aim to address this for our patients by providing same-day fixed teeth."

"Many people are now aware that dental implants can replace single missing teeth in a highly successful, attractive and long-lasting way."

"However the advancement in dental implant techniques allows replacement of all missing teeth and full dentures with All-on-4 in a single day!"

Supersub Ellis scores in Skem FA Cup shock

FA Cup second round qualifying:

Skelmersdale United 2
Lancaster City 1

SKELMERSDALE United's FA Cup run continued in monsoon like conditions on Saturday with a 2-1 giant killing of Northern Premier League side Lancaster City at the JMO Sports Park, writes Neil Leatherbarrow.

The win powered Skem into the third qualifying round of the FA Cup for the first time since 2006.

They will face Longridge Town away in the next round with the tie to be played on either Tuesday or Wednesday October 13 or 14.

Manager Paul McNally described it as a great all-round performance although he said he was "gutted that the fans couldn't see it" as the match had to be played behind closed doors.

United started the brighter of the two sides and their pressure paid off on 36 minutes as a corner saw Mike Grogan connect at the far post and head past Ashton to make it 1-0.

Lancaster drew level within two minutes of the half-time restart with Bailey slotting past Barnes.

Both sides pushed for the next goal with a free-kick from Gregory saved by Barnes before Lloyd Ellams drew a stop from Ashton at the other end.

Just after the hour mark, McNally brought on Gabriel Ellis in place of Croughan and the young winger made an instant impact, a long aerial pass from Dan Murphy saw Adegbenro connect and slide through to Ellis who raced towards goal and slotted past Ashton into the bottom corner for 2-1.

The Dolly Blues had two chances to level in a matter of seconds, David Norris fired a shot which saw Barnes save but parry into the path of Charlie Bailey who could only send the ball into the side netting.

United looked to wrap the game up on 79 minutes, Adegbenro raced through the City defence but was only able to send a shot across goal.

As the match entered the final five minutes, City continued to push with Barnes called on to save from two consecutive corners in as many minutes as the pressure built for the NPL side.

The match entered injury time with substitute Rob Wilson seeing a free-kick saved by Barnes, the resulting corner saw City's keeper Ashton come up but with United clearing the set-piece through Ellis, he found Adegbenro who raced clear before being upended by Luke Higham who received his second booking and was dismissed.

The final whistle sounded leading to a raucous celebration from the United players. Hopefully, the next stage will see some fans allowed to attend as such a wonderful win deserved a huge crowd.

Linnets and United matches postponed due to Covid-19

BURSCOUGH'S scheduled league fixtures at Bootle last Saturday and at home to Barnoldswick yesterday (Tuesday) were both postponed due to concerns over the rising cases of Covid-19 in the region.

Bootle have closed down all activities and shut its Berry Street Garage Stadium for two weeks as a result of the growing coronavirus cases in Merseyside which has seen new lockdown measures introduced by the government.

Burscough's scheduled home fixture against Barnoldswick was postponed as West Lancashire Council had ordered that the game would have to be played behind closed doors.

Skelmersdale United's home league match against Litherland Remyca yesterday (Tuesday) was also postponed due to Covid-19 restrictions.

Burscough are due to play Litherland Remyca away on Saturday while Skelmersdale United have no scheduled fixture.

Quality Kitchens and Bathrooms at Affordable Prices

Established over 30 years, and located in the Asda shopping mall in Hunts Cross, Capital are one of Merseyside's leading suppliers and fitters of kitchens and bathrooms and are very much a one-stop shop for all your requirements.

"Our aim at Capital is to make your dream bathroom and kitchen become reality. We pride ourselves that people choose Capital because our prices, value and quality give you total peace of mind. "When we quote a fitting, we handle everything from clearing the room to preparing the walls, looking after electrics, plumbing, tiling, fitting, plus any building work, using our own tradesmen". "So what makes Capital Kitchens and Bathrooms different? Our Capital Promise, which includes a 5-year guarantee, is a pledge we make to all our customers and is embraced by all our employees.

All estimates are provided free of charge on a no-obligation basis and 99% of our kitchens and bathrooms are fitted within one week. We take great pride in everything we do".

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

MCDERMOTT FREDERICK

The family of the late Fred McDermott wish to express their sincere thanks to all relatives, friends and members of the Royal Signals (Southport) for their kindness and sympathy shown to them during their recent bereavement, also for the cards and donations to The Royal Signal's Charity.

Thanks also to the staff of ward 9B, Southport Hospital and to John Milton and Chris Quine for a comforting service.

Thanks also to Derek and the staff of Howard's Funeral Directors for funeral arrangements.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

BOND GEOFFREY WARREN

Mary, Lindsey, Allan and family wish to thank everyone for the many messages of sympathy and donations to Queenscourt Hospice.

We would also like to thank the carers from Assured Care, Queenscourt nurses and the district nurses. The care from all of them was outstanding.

Finally, we wish to thank Lee from Rushton's for his sensitivity and efficiency and Rev Rebecca Clarke for conducting the service, also Merseyside Fire and Rescue Service for giving Geoff a good send off.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

FERNLEY HARRY

The family of the late Harry Fernley wish to express their sincere thanks to all relatives, friends and neighbours for the kindness and sympathy shown to them during their recent bereavement. Also for the cards, floral tributes and donations to Queenscourt Hospice.

Thanks to Doctor Tilley, district nurses, Queenscourt and Guardian Carers. Thanks to Reverend Elliott Ireton for a comforting service, and to Kayleigh and the staff of Cookson Tyrer in Burscough for funeral arrangements.

BIRTHDAY MEMORIALS

TAYLOR KELSEY

6/10/1992 - 28/10/2009
28 Years Old

Thinking of you on your Birthday with sadness in our Hearts,

For a very special someone for whom we had to part,

Tears instead of wishes,
Flowers instead of Cards,

You left us precious memories that will stay forever in our Hearts.

Happy Birthday Kelsey
Love and miss you forever and always.

Your Loving Family
XXXXXX

DOBSON MAUREEN

Maureen's Family would like to thank all relatives, friends and neighbours for their kind words of sympathy, cards of condolence and generous donations made to Queenscourt Hospice.

Special thanks to Queenscourt Hospice and all the carers at Care Concern and the District Nurses.

Thank you to all who attended the funeral and thanks to Father Godrick for his kindness.

Thanks to Melanie and staff at Hardman's for their dignified funeral arrangements

Boris has got himself a bargain!

CONSIDERING that VW has reportedly pumped 60 billion Euros into its new ID range of electric models, Boris has got himself a bit of a bargain this week.

A government headed up by the former motoring correspondent for GQ – and I'm not making that up, I promise – has given a 'significant' amount of funding (although it won't disclose how much) to Lotus.

Not to develop the long overdue successor to the Esprit, or to make the Elise four seconds quicker around Oulton Park on a track day. Nope, it's all part of a plan to let the chaps down in Norfolk develop a new series of zero emissions vehicles – which is a good thing for anyone who cares about cars.

About two years ago I headed down to the factory in Hethel for the company's 70th anniversary party, and while there was a fair bit of misty-eyed nostalgia for the Elan and its go-faster Cortinas, the real news was that its Chinese owner, Geely, wanted it to become a pioneering force for electric car tech.

Anyone who's been watching another of Geely's acquisitions lately, Volvo, will know that company's gone for an all-out offensive with its electric and hybrid commitments, and now it seems Lotus is getting down to work too. Specifically, it's been tasked with teaming with a tech company in Coventry called Sarginsons Industries and some academics at Brunel University, to harness the 'light weighting' potential of electric car tech. In other words, it's been asked to do what Lotus founder Colin Chapman originally set out to do with internal combustion sports car – to add lightness.

Lotus is being tasked with bringing its sports car know-how to electric vehicles

Lighter cars aren't just better for the environment, but they handle better too.

Lotus isn't exactly being coy about what it's getting out of all this eco-friendly stuff, either; it wants to develop "a full range of electrified Lotus performance cars, for the drivers."

Forget the all-electric Evija supercar and its otherworldly £2.4m asking price; nope, we're talking cars like the Elise, only ones that you can plug into the mains at night and go to bed, smug in the knowledge that David Attenborough will love your Lotus as much as you do. Obviously, it'll be a couple of years before we see all of these zero emissions models, but I'll happily sneak into Hethel and stick 'Electric Esprit' and 'Electric Elan' into the employee suggestion box if it helps.

If Lotus can make electric cars handle as balletically as its petrol-powered ones, and shave a bit of flab off in the process, then I'm all for it. Who knew that helping to cut our carbon emissions could be so much fun?

David Simister is the editor of Classic Car Weekly

Audi has been busy with scalpels and has given off-roader plastic surgery!

CAR maker Audi has been busy with the scalpels and given its Q5 off-roader some plastic surgery, creating a sleek new spinoff model.

It says the new Q5 Sportback combines the robust qualities of the existing models with a more coupé-like profile, similar to what it's already done with the smaller Q3 model, although it does trade a little rear headroom and boot space as a result.

It'll be launched here early next year, and while Audi hasn't confirmed UK prices yet, it has said it'll be available with a choice of four trim levels and the option of petrol, turbodiesel or hybrid power.

Right: The Audi Q5 Sportback is due to go on sale here early next year

Renault says its Zoe Van has the same range as its car cousin

All-electric Zoe is now a load-lugger

RENAULT'S all-electric Zoe is now available as a van. The five-door hatchback's been transformed into a load-lugger capable up carrying up to 387kg, and has the same 245 mile range on a charge.

It also retains the rear doors of its passenger-carrying cousin to make loads easier to access, although the windows have been deactivated and covered in an opaque film for security purposes.

It'll be available to order from next month, with prices starting at £25,500.
